

TOBACCO AVERAGES 24c AT LEXINGTON

Much Low Grade Weed Brings Average Down—Prices Ranged From 1-2c to 64c

(Special To Daily Register)
Lexington, Ky., Jan. 3.—With over 100,000 pounds of tobacco sold on the loose leaf markets here today, the average is about 24 cents a pound for today's sales. Prices for the day ranged all the way from 1-2c to 64c a pound. There was a great amount of low grade weed offered. This had the effect of lowering the average greatly. Good grade leaf brought what appeared to be satisfactory prices.

Many growers, who did not receive what they wanted for their crops are talking of pooling the lower grades according to the plan of the Burley Growers Association.

Many others say that they will cut out the crop entirely in 1921. They say that this is the only plan by which prices for their tobacco can be elevated again.

Sales were held at 18 warehouses here Monday, a percentage of the offerings on each floor being sold.

WATCHING SALES AT LEXINGTON TODAY

Local Tobacco Men Go Over To See How Prices Open—Ready For Sales Here

The floors of both Richmond tobacco warehouses are well filled with tobacco, awaiting the opening sales on Tuesday morning. A big crowd is expected to be in town for the first sales, as interest is very keen all over Kentucky, and especially in the burley district, as to the market this season. Several car loads of local tobacco men went to Lexington early Monday morning to witness the opening sales there. The prices paid at Lexington are expected to prove a reliable index of what may be expected here. It is a fact though that the prices paid on the Richmond market last year were the highest in the state, as shown by official figures.

Sales are expected to begin here at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning promptly.

10,000,000 POUNDS ON FLOORS AT LEXINGTON

(By Associated Press)
Lexington, Ky., Jan. 3.—With approximately 10,000,000 pounds of burley tobacco on the floors of the 18 warehouses here, and the size of the 1921 crop depending to a large extent on the price brought by the first day's sales, tobacco buyers and warehousemen were ready this morning for the opening of the market at 9 o'clock. On offering for the low grades, depends, according to officials of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association, whether or not the proposed co-operative company of growers will be completed and take up the task of getting what is considered a fair price for the poorer kinds.

Other markets in the burley district will open during the next three or four days, a few opening simultaneously with the local salesrooms.

The crop, while larger than last year, cost considerably more to grow, according to estimates of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and government officials. The average per acre was considerably lower than last year, due to light weight leaf, while labor costs are said to have been higher.

Government estimates fixing the size of the Kentucky crop of 1920 at 236,500,000, as compared with 219,000,000 pounds in 1919, should have no effect on the price to be offered, according to the growers' association. The United States government estimates the world production at 287,000,000 pounds for 1920, which compares with 320,000,000 pounds in 1919. The estimated crop of producing the Kentucky crop was fixed at $309 an acre, or approximately 36 cents a pound, by the university and government officials. This compares with a cost of 26 cents a pound last year. The average production per acre in 1919 was more than 1,100 pounds, while that of 1920 is placed at 809 pounds.

Three sets of buyers are here awaiting the sounding of the opening gong. They will follow an itinerary on the opening day that will take each set to six warehouses, thus covering the entire market during the day. On succeeding days sales will be held in three warehouses each morning and three others in the afternoon.

Officials of the growers' association of which John W. Newman, of Versailles, is president, are attending all sales and watch closely the prices paid for the various grades. Should the prices prove unsatisfactory, it is planned to take hold of the lower grades and prepare to find the proper market for them through the proposed co-operative marketing company, plans for which have already been approved by the association.

The managers of the principal buying interests represented on the Lexington market are: American Tobacco Company, M. M. Geary; Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company, J. G. Pryor; P. Lorillard Company, Kirkpatrick & Stevens; J. P. Taylor Company, George R. Parker; R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Theodore Kirk.

Newman Says "Steady Boys"

Warning burley tobacco growers that the next ten days would be the crucial period in the life of the new organization, formed because of prospects that prices would be below the cost of production, John W. Newman, president of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association, today issued a statement, which he headed "Steady Boys." "Whatever prices prevail," he said, "let the grower sit steady in the boat, upholding at all times law and order."

"Within the next ten days members of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association will likely be put to their first severest test since joining the organization," he said. "The present indications are that many members of this organization will, in the course of this period, in the space of three minutes dispose of a year's labor at a very low figure. The tobacco grower has toiled with his family, and often with costly hired labor to produce a crop of tobacco that a freak of the weather or an attack of disease has rendered of a very low quality. It will necessarily bring a low price. Good crops may sell for less than their value. Disappointments will follow. Debts cannot be paid. Many will be unsupplied. Other things must be sacrificed to meet obligations. There will likely be many distressing incidents and much bitterness of feeling. Some will probably blame the manufacturer, some may blame the government. This reason and that will be given for unsatisfactory prices. Many remedies will be suggested."

"Whatever prices may prevail, let the grower sit steady in the boat, upholding at all times law and order. Injustices and wrongs can only be righted through organization, co-operation and due process of law. So we say 'steady boys' during the troublesome days ahead. Strengthen your organization. Seek redress in an orderly way. In this way we will have the support of public opinion, without which no organization, however righteous its cause, can long exist. Out of it all will ultimately come good. Unsatisfactory conditions can and will be righted. The growers must depend more upon their united efforts and less upon government relief. This is the great lesson that this terrible deflation of farm prices is teaching."

SENATE REVIVES WAR CORPORATION

After Wilson Had Vetted Gronna Resolution, On Grounds It Will Mean More Taxes

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Jan. 3.—President Wilson today vetoed the Gronna resolution to revive the War Finance Corporation designed to aid farming and other industries.

The Senate immediately took up the measure and passed it over the President's veto. Similar action is forecast in the House by supporters of the resolution. The vote to override the President was 5 to 3, or 19 more than the required two-thirds majority.

"It is highly probable," the President said in his veto message, "that the most immediate and conscious effect of the resumption of the corporation's activities will be an effort on the part of exporters to shift the financing of their operations from ordinary commercial channels to the government. This would be unfortunate, for if activities of any considerable magnitude resulted, they would necessitate the imposition of additional taxes or further borrowing, either through the War Finance Corporation or by the Treasury. In either case new burdens would be laid upon the people."

SUES TO BREAK MRS. IRVINE'S WILL

Dr. Irvine White Declines To Act As Executor and Brings Suit In Court

William Irvine Greenway, of Reno, Nevada, has arrived in Richmond to take steps to defend the will of the late Mrs. Elizabeth S. Irvine by the terms of which he is the residuary legatee, his portion of the estate being estimated at about $100,000. By the terms of Mrs. Irvine's will, her handsome home here was left to the Kentucky State Medical Society for the purpose of establishing a hospital. The income from property in Kansas City, netting about $2,000 a year, was provided for support and maintenance of such an institution.

Suit to break the will has been filed in the Madison circuit court by Dr. Irvine White, Sr., of Huntsville, who is a nephew of the deceased. Greenway is a great-nephew of Mrs. Irvine and was named for her husband, the late William Irvine. Attorney D. Irvine White, Jr., of Kansas City, Mo., and Attorney John Noland, Sr., of the will contest. Mr. White was named in the will as one of the executors, together with John W. Crooke, cashier of the Citizens' National Bank. Mr. White refused, however, to qualify as an executor, and has brought this suit against Mr. Crooke as executor and the beneficiaries named in the will, seeking to have it set aside and "the found and declared not to be the last will and testament" of Mrs. Irvine. The estate affected by this suit, which will probably be one of the hardest fought cases in this section in a number of years, is estimated at about $400,000.

The suit brought by Mr. White to break the will is set forth in detail in the petition, as follows:

STATES FACE BIG PROBLEMS TODAY

Legislatures In 45 Convene With Real Business Before A Lot of Them

(By Associated Press)
New York, Jan. 3.—Legislatures of 45 states and territories, most of which open their sessions today or later this month, have before them formidable programs of tax reform, dry law enforcement, election re-districting in accordance with the 1920 census, soldier bonuses, public improvements, revision of constitutions, laws for husband and wife, industrial and suffrage legislation, state aid for farmers, boxing commissions, new financing, retrenchment by consolidation or abolition of state departments, anti-radicalism, automobile regulation, reorganization of state militias, relief for public utilities, amendment or repeal of primary laws, commission or "manager" plan for cities and counties and pro and anti-blue laws enactments.

California, with its $750,000,000 state-wide irrigation project leads the state in the matter of proposed public improvements and will ask the legislators to authorize a survey of the contemplated enterprise. Colorado also has a big mountain tunnel in contemplation. West Virginia solons will be required to pass laws at the session opening January 15, providing for the expenditure of $50,000,000 for building good roads, for which the people voted a bond issue at the recent election. Missouri also must provide $60,000,000 for building legislation.

Establishment of a state constabulary, urged largely by farmers, and enactment of a bill legalizing boxing, in addition to a proposal to repeal her state primary law, held unconstitutional by the State Supreme Court, will be taken up by the legislature of Illinois sometime after that body meets for its opening session next Wednesday. Fights against primary laws are to be made in Indiana, Missouri, Nebraska, New York, New Mexico, North Carolina, Tennessee, Vermont and Wyoming.

Vermont "liberals" plan an attack on the blue laws of the state insofar as they relate to observance of the Sabbath. An effort will be made, it is said, to modify the present statutes so as to permit amateur sports, particularly baseball on Sunday, where the sport is not commercialized. Local option such as exists in Massachusetts, enabling individual cities and towns to determine their own practice in the matter of Sunday games, will be sought. New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, and South Dakota, are also expected to discuss anti-blue laws. California, meanwhile, will argue the merits or demerits of a Sunday closing law.

Reorganization of the state judiciary system and a constitutional amendment proposing that none but "American citizens, native or fully naturalized, be allowed the right of suffrage in Texas" will be before the law making body at Austin, Texas, beginning January 11. Another Texas bill would exclude Orientals from acquiring land within the state. Kansas representatives will have bills before them providing state aid for highway construction and financial assistance to farmers in purchasing homes.

Capital punishment, as a result of legal discussion over the Coleman murder case, will confront the Nebraska legislature and West Virginia will act on proposals to abolish private detective agencies. The last named state also will consider amendments to laws relating marriage in order to make non-support an extraditable offense. California legislators once again will again be called upon to consider the act of 1919, which was designed to place a wife on an equality with her husband, and which was defeated last fall.

Many states will be confronted with the problem of raising funds to pay soldiers' bonuses voted at the last election. South Dakota is pledged to obtain $6,000,000; Montana legislators will vote on the question of bonus for 40,000 ex-service men; Delaware lawmakers will take a similar vote; Connecticut must raise $2,500,000 for soldier relief; New Hampshire in addition to a bonus, may exempt veterans property from taxation up to $500 value; Iowa sol-

Erected First Linotypes In Kentucky, Says Maret

In his interesting notes on "First Things in Kentucky," in the Lexington Leader, Col. Jim Maret often has occasion to mention Madison county. He had the following Sunday:

The first linotype machines, four in number, brought to Lexington in 1892, and installed in the plant of the Lexington Transcript, a morning paper, published by Major Caldwell, at 25 West Short street, opposite the Reed Hotel. S. C. Franklin, a Madison county boy, assisted in setting up these machines and operated one of them some years. He was sent to Fort Smith, and other southern points afterward to set up these Mergenthaler machines.

BEREA BOY HAS ROMANTIC WEDDING

Popular Young Couple Has Difficulty Proving They Had Consent of Their Parents

Dispatches from Louisville Sunday told of the romantic wedding of a popular Berea boy to a young lady from Fayette county, as follows:

Louisville, Jan. 2.—Miss Elizabeth Whitt Hampton, of Chilesburg, Fayette county, and L. C. Fish, of Berea, spent five of the first twenty-four hours of the New Year waiting to get married. Miss Hampton, 16 years old, is a student in Hamilton College, in Lexington, while Fish, 18, is a Freshman in the University of Kentucky.

Accompanied by A. B. Hackworth of the University, and Mrs. Jewell E. Tudor, of Lexington, the two motored to Louisville from the bluegrass. Apparently they anticipated difficulties, because of their youth when the time came to get license, for each was armed with the written consent of a parent. The party called at the city hall when the found the court house closed. Ford Koop, the marriage license clerk, was located. He looked at the "consents."

Then he got busy on the telephone, it taking five hours to get E. T. Fish, wealthy Berea farmer, and E. D. Witt, Miss Hampton's stepfather, on the telephone. In the meantime, Magistrate Waller Clements was engaged to perform the ceremony. This he did, the bride carrying a bouquet of flowers she had been holding from nightfall until 9:30 o'clock.

PITCHED BATTLE

Pineville, Ky., Jan. 2.—Two killed, one dangerously and two seriously wounded resulted from a shooting affray at Poor Fork. The dead are: John H. Creek, chief of police of Poor Fork, and Joe Cruciole, railroad man connected with the L. & N.

The wounded are Ed Cline and H. L. Huff, deputy sheriff, dangerously wounded, and Mat Green, slightly wounded. The shooting occurred when the officers went to the railroad camp at Poor Fork and attempted to arrest a number of men who were creating a disturbance while in a drunken condition. It is reported nearly a hundred shots were fired between the officers and the men before the former fell. The officers were outnumbered three to one, but, according to reports received here, they made a gallant fight against the big odds.

CENTRE DEFEATS TEXAS

Fort Worth, Texas, Jan. 3.—Centre College, Danville, Ky., starts the new year with another football victory. Its eleven Saturday crushed the Texas Christian University squad at Fort Worth, 63 to 7. In beating the Christians the "Praying Colonels" of Kentucky has conquered a team that went through the 1920 season without a defeat and a team that ranked among the first in Texas college football. Seven thousand people saw the game.

Texas Christian University was the first to score. Early in the opening quarter the Colonels marched down the field for what looked like a quick touchdown. Jackson, of the Christian University, intercepted a forward pass and raced 90 yards for a touchdown.

"Bo" McMillin, who lived up to his reputation as a brilliant player and Montgomery, James and Weaver, all regulars of Centre, were playing in their home city. Their first football experience was on a Fort Worth high school squad.

Centre excelled in every department except forward passing. Principal gains made by T. C. U. were by accurate passing. McMillin carried the ball a great deal for Centre, gaining at practically every attempt.

Weaver kicked nine goals after touchdowns. T. W. Jones, big cattle dealer of Lincoln county, was over Monday to look over the offerings on the local market.

My appetite is splendid now, by digestion seems perfect and I have gained ten pounds in weight. My nerves are strong and steady and I sleep at night like a baby and feel as well as I did before I had the influenza, if not better. I don't believe there ever was as good a medicine made as Tanlac."

LATE NEWS NOTES

One of Richmond's prominent educators is again recognized in the musical circles of the country. Prof. S. S. Myers, head of the music department of the Eastern State Normal School, has been notified that the John Church Company, of Cincinnati, the house devoted to the progress of American music, has accepted and finished the publication of a beautiful cantata, "The Rescue of Will Statley," from the tale of Robin Hood. The text and music arranged for this cantata have been recognized by many of the leading musicians to be the composer's masterpiece. The cantata is in three parts, and is the product of many months' energetic work.

The acceptance of this work by the John Church Company is a compliment in itself, as hundreds of manuscripts are returned to the composers every day. The company is paying Prof. Myers a liberal royalty for this work, which will net him a handsome profit.

The people of Richmond will have the opportunity to hear "The Rescue of Will Statley," which will be rendered some time during the May Festival concerts by members of the Normal Glee Club, who will start rehearsals at the beginning of the new term.

The West boys, who have conducted a garage in the rear of the old Lyman Parrish stable, on Third street, have moved into the old Hunley stable where they will have larger quarters. This reduces the liveries in Richmond to one stable, and the old time way of spooning in a buggy, behind one of Kentucky's fast steeds, is becoming a thing of the past.

Miss Brown E. Telford, a member of the Normal School faculty, is spending the Christmas holidays with friends and relatives in Hinton, W. Va.

Jailer James S. Mullins, of Clark county, is a candidate for sheriff there.

Miss Aileen McDonald, stenographer, of Winchester, had an arm broken when she was struck by an auto.

J. F. Cheek, of Danville, was here with friends Sunday.

C. C. Rhodus, formerly manager of the Hotel Glyndon, has put his drug store in Winchester strictly on a cash basis, he announces in the advertising columns of the papers there. His many friends here are all hoping he makes a million dollars.

Police Judge R. S. Seabee, of Winchester, is a candidate for county judge of Clark.

MRS. SHEARER DIES NEAR RED HOUSE

Mrs. Margaret Shearer passed away at her home near Red House late Sunday evening after a three weeks' illness. She was 60 years old and one of the most beloved women in all that community, being a devoted member of the Christian church, and a mother who was everything that that sacred word implies.

Mrs. Shearer was a Miss Huguely, and a native of Madison county, where she lived all her life. She was first married to J. A. Baxter, and one son by this union survives. After his death she was married to Ab. Shearer, who also preceded her to the grave about 20 years ago. Four children by this union survive, Messrs. Harry Shearer and Huguely Shearer and Miss Minnie Shearer and Mrs. Mary Anderson, of Red House. Mrs. Shearer's membership was in Brookstown Christian church, in which she was ever a faithful worker. Funeral services will be conducted at her home Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, by Rev. Homer W. Carpenter, of Richmond, followed by interment in the Richmond cemetery.

SWIFT PRODUCE REVIEW

Poultry movement was very light as usual during holiday week. There is still a fair amount of poultry to be moved in some sections, and indications point to somewhat higher values. The demand for dressed poultry from the consuming trade is very good. Fresh egg production continues mostly by weather of the year. The egg market will be governed mostly by weather conditions for the next sixty days, with probably pretty wide fluctuations in the different markets.

Butter at its present level of values is meeting with better demand and as this demand is mostly for fresh product, the tendency is for advancing prices.

The demand is also better for storage butter, due to the shortage of fresh stock.

Mrs. W. W. Richards is confined to her home this week on account of illness.

The "Heal-All" of the Indians

There is an herb which grows in our Western Plains known as "Manzanita" and to which the Indians attribute wonderful curative and healing virtue.

There is no question but that nature has bounteously provided in the roots and herbs of the field a remedy for many of the ills which human flesh is heir. This is demonstrated by the wonderful success of that root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been relieving women of America from some of the worst forms of female ills. It will certainly pay any woman who so suffers to try it.

CITY BEAUTIFUL TO BE 1921 SLOGAN

Might Just As Well Get Used To Metropolitan City Ways First As Last

"The City Beautiful" is to be the 1921 slogan in Richmond.

One of the 1921 ideas, conforming with the progressive spirit characterizing the city of Richmond will be launched during the spring months, when the grass becomes green and the beauty of the paved streets is intensified and generally enhanced by the beautifully fenced lawns and there may be an ordinance that livestock being driven through the city, that is, on Main street in the business section, will constitute a misdemeanor.

One of the city councilmen stated this would be brought about if nothing else. "I like cattle and hogs and mules," he said, in explaining the contemplated measure in behalf of the city beautiful, "but it is just natural during the heat of the season or after a rain for an animal to take to the soft grass, regardless of flower beds and other decorations, and get away from the hot and hard pavement. It is just as natural for a man or boy riding a horse, in order to prevent damage to flowers and grass, to ride after the straying animal. It is to do away with this, that I am going to frame an ordinance to my own liking and have the stock driven over the streets to the north of Main street. This can be done, especially by all coming from the west and south-west, Irvine street can be used to the first street paralleling Irvine east of First street, thus avoiding Main street, a point where it almost reaches the stockyards, when Orchard street can be used to cross Main street to the stockyards, and there will be the elimination of a great nuisance. I am in for a city beautiful and will pay a fine for any city law I am guilty of violating."

SALVATION ARMY BUYS "Y" BUILDING

Hopkinsville Business Men Pledge Their Hearty Support to Further the Work.

The Salvation Army has bought the Y. M. C. A. building at Hopkinsville, Col. William Evans, of Pittsburg, the chief provincial officer, and Brigadier David E. Dunham, divisional officer, of Cincinnati, recently visited Hopkinsville, where they met a number of prominent citizens and consummated the deal.

Seven of the leading business men of Hopkinsville were ready to get behind the movement and pledged their hearty support at the meeting. Others prominent in their offers of support were Dr. Leonard Doan, pastor of the First Baptist Church, formerly of Louisville; Rev. A. R. Kasey, pastor of the First Methodist Church, and Rev. Everett S. Smith, pastor of the First Christian Church. Members of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. were also present.

The Y. M. C. A. building was erected some years ago, but a debt has hung over it. A Hopkinsville bank held a mortgage and filed suit to foreclose and the Salvation Army bid to the property. The building is in the center of the city, is built of concrete blocks, and has three stories. On the first floor is a central assembly room, on the second floor will be the Salvation Army corps headquarters, and the third floor will be used for emergency cases. Many changes will be made in the building, and when completed it will be ideal as a community social welfare center.

Ernest Henry Vailor has been in charge of the Salvation Army work in Hopkinsville for the past five years.

His arrival was too late for him to see the twins born in the summer. Both had just been buried. He had worked for one firm 32 years to save up the purchase money for his grocery.

Departing from custom, the Federal Council of Churches has endorsed the work being done by Near East Relief, 1 Madison Avenue, New York City, the former committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief which has essayed the task of caring for 1,250,000 starving people in Western Asia.

Resolutions adopted by the executive committee, as announced by Charles S. Macfarland, general secretary, are as follows:

"Your committee recommends that prayers be offered in all our churches for the suffering children throughout the world, especially those who are in distress and peril as the result of the war.

"They further recommend that we reaffirm and emphasize our interest and co-operation in the plans of 'Near East Relief.' We know of no need in the world that is more compelling than that of the Armenian Syrian and other peoples in the Levant who have already received and must still receive the generous sympathy of the American people."

One Way Philadelphia People Solve House Problem.

Tenant Population Are in Desperate
Straits Owing to the High Rents.

Philadelphia.—A campaign for building homes in Philadelphia is answer to the question of how to keep rents down to a reasonable basis. The tenant population is in desperate straits, for rents have been going higher and no end seems to be in sight. The scramble for homes in the suburbs is so acute that when one woman moved some of the furniture out of her home the other day in order to clean the house 25 persons tried to rent it from her within a few hours.

To stop the profiteering in rents and homes, several organizations are attempting to unite on a program of house building to continue for at least six months, or until the shortage has been relieved. These organizations include associations of tenants, trade unions, representatives of the building trades and mortgaging companies. They have been asked to undertake this work by the department of public welfare.
